

Farm Startups: Who, What, When, How, and Why?”

A brief list of some websites & contacts that I find helpful or inspiring

http://www.sare.org/ Sustainable Agriculture Research & Education has information on research activity and grants for small & sustainable farm practices	https://attra.ncat.org/ National Sustainable Agriculture Information Service has lots of information about sustainable agriculture and topics that are critical at various points in a farm or farmer’s life
http://nesfp.nutrition.tufts.edu New Entry Sustainable Field Schools through Tufts University provides training to new farmers as well as great ‘Field Schools’ that are hands-on, resource rich and inexpensive	www.holisticmanagement.org The mothership of the Beginning Women Farmer Program, with tons of information and resources
http://www.nofa.org/index.php Northeast Organic Farming Association includes info/links to northeast chapters	www.glynwood.org Glynwood Farm in Cold Spring, NY, runs a 225-acre sustainable farm, a CSA, workshops, social events & advocacy; their mission is helping communities in the Northeast save farming.
www.motherearthnews.com A rich resource of information on a wide array of subjects from farming & homesteading to energy efficiency, green building, natural medicines, etc	http://albc-usa.org American Livestock Breeding Conservancy catalogs and describes the current information on rare, heritage breed animals; they also have a ‘classifieds’ section for finding stock
www.alberteve.com A San Francisco based home-delivery model CSA. The website is user-friendly, well-designed. Their model for production/distribution is also very good.	http://us.moo.com A business card site that has far more variety than most business card sites along with other products and lots of creative inspiration
www.fastcompany.com Fast Company magazine- a great resource for entrepreneurs, creative resources, innovative design and technology	www.ted.com The TED site has a wide array of video presentations that are often inspirational and informative.
Farmland ConneCTions Service UConn Cooperative Extension System Jennifer McTiernan , Project Coordinator FarmlandConnections@gmail.com Download Farmland ConneCTions Guide: http://www.extension.uconn.edu/documents/CT_Farmland_Connections_FINAL.pdf	http://lymaninsure.com/ Farm Insurance for leased land- Jim Lyman was incredibly helpful after many hours searching, talking and hitting dead ends trying to secure insurance for leased farm land Lyman Agency, LLC • 6 Way Road • Suite 201 • Middlefield, CT 06455 • 860-349-7064

